WHO WE ARE

Green Gorilla is a training and coaching company that helps sustainability professionals become more confident and assertive in communicating the value of sustainability

OUR FOCUS

Our training courses focus on delivering results. We teach sustainability professionals how to sell sustainability effectively, and become influencers in their field.

Empowered sustainability professionals deliver better sustainability outcomes and spend less time and money chasing clients.

THE IMPORTANCE OF SOFT SKILLS

We champion the importance of soft skills alongside technical skills, for clearer communication, better results, happier clients, more fulfilled careers.

WHAT WE DO

TRAINING COURSES

Our CPD-accredited courses teach a range of fundamental skills, from presentation, to storytelling, to building the business case for sustainability, to assertiveness, to change management and more. All in the specific context of sustainability.

BESPOKE TRAINING

We are always happy to develop and deliver bespoke training courses on sustainability, BREEAM and soft skills that incorporate the specific values, practices and ethos of individual companies.

COACHING

We offer one-to-one coaching sessions for individuals that have specific issues to overcome. Our team features qualified leadership and management professionals with vast coaching experience at both corporate and individual levels.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY

“ The Green Gorilla Masterclass Programme gave me the opportunity not only to think about the working environment but also to extend the principles to my personal life. I did not expect to grow personally as well as professionally. Highly recommended. ”
